RUGBY CONVENOR

On Tuesday this week, the 1st XV played Argyle School from Canada. The game was a good trial for our open team. The 1sts lost by a slim margin. Congratulations to both teams for their spirited performance.

We would not be able to play international schools without the help of Parents who billet the incoming players. Thank you Parents and Friends who keep on hosting boys from overseas.

The Under 14s played a Trial game at the same against St Edward’s College. A difficult game for our boys in their first of the season. Lessons were learned.

Next term is the beginning of the ISA Rugby Season with our first game on Saturday 4th May - the first Saturday back after the holidays. Please ensure your fitness is extended over the break. We all wish everyone a restful and productive holiday.

There will be further trial games against St Edwards’ College to be played next term:

- Tuesday 29th April — U15s v St Edwards – Rugby 2
- Tuesday 6th May — U16s v St Edwards – Rugby 1

Good luck to all teams in this 2014 season of CCGS Rugby.

The Prep Rugby fixture list for 2014 is included in this newsletter.

First game – work in progress. Supporting each other, speed to the breakdowns and ball security were the factors that stood out as needing attention as well as loads of fitness.

The first half was a struggle for both teams and by the end of the section, both teams were beginning wilt. Although CCGS had a glut of possession the boys just couldn’t capitalise with points on the board. The score at the break was 7 all.

CCGS were much more positive at the beginning of the second half. They allowed the ball to do the work and as a result were able to post the first try to go to a handy 14 – 7 lead. However, a combination of not executing basic skills and fatigue Argyle were able to run in three unanswered tries to win the match.

All in all a promising first hit out.
CCGS 1sts XV v Argyle
CCGS defeated by St Edwards

On an overcast day, the 14’s took to oval 2 to attempt the toughest task of the season… To restrict the open play of a very good St Edwards team.

The first half left us feeling shell shocked as Eddies ran in 29 points and left us with what could generously be about 30 seconds of ball possession. The second half saw us put together several good attacking phases without reward whilst St Edwards continued to play flowing and attractive rugby.

The outcome was a loss BUT, sterling performances from Tom Herron and Tim Scarr showed what we are capable of across the park. There is a lot of work to be done but with the mentality that permeates the team, the future holds promise.
